

Igniting Learning Journeys
啟育學習旅程

Dear Friend of CDC,

It is with great excitement that we introduce to you the CDC's new book -- The Child Development Centre's Guide for Teachers and Therapists. The Guide was successfully launched on 25 Oct 2017.

Over the past year, CDC's multidisciplinary team created The Guide. We are very proud to have put together this resource that helps support professionals who work with preschool children with individual needs. We hope that young children will be supported even better in their preschools as a result.

It's been a while since our last update. A lot has happened at the centre since, including a brand new motor therapy room that is now up and running. More therapy sessions are now available for children who will benefit from sensory and motor training.

At the CDC, we always look for ways to make learning fun and engaging. If you have not seen our latest educational rap videos on Chinese writing basic rules, here's a link for you to enjoy them!

In the News

Centre Trip

A fun-filled outing to Kadoorie Farm was enjoyed by 15 CDC families and a group of caring volunteers from Goldman Sachs.

Sedan Chair Race

We love the Sedan Chair race and are proud of the longstanding mutual support between the CDC and Sedan Chair Charities Fund.

SEN Tips

Knowing Your Child's Learning Style

Each child learns and interacts with the world in different ways. Most children begin to develop and show a preference for particular learning styles during their toddler period.

Helping Your Child Sleep Better

Common problems with children's sleep include inconsistent sleep routines, difficulty falling asleep, nighttime and early morning awakening and restlessness. How can these problems be tackled?

Getting Ready to Learn

Children start learning the moment they come into this world. While they develop and acquire new skills at different rates, what can we do to prepare our children to get ready to learn?
