

Igniting Learning Journeys
啟育學習旅程

Dear Friend of CDC,

We hope everyone has settled in following the start of the new school year! We've got plenty of updates for you since our last newsletter. In this edition, we are exclusively launching an exciting brand new video to better introduce the CDC to everyone! Click the image above to watch the short video, which also features insight from two CDC parents!

Additionally, this October, we're organising 'CDC's Inclusive Funfair'. Save the date on Sunday, 31 October 2021 from 11am to 5pm! Funded by the Funding Scheme for Children's Well-being and Development under the Commission on Children, the funfair will have talks for parents, parent-child workshops, game booths and an opportunity for a developmental screening. For more details click the banner below or the link here.

In other news, check out our recap of two recent CDC events - the Daddy Daughter Date and the 'Zero to Hero' Charity Screening. We also have some new SEN Tips and Upcoming Events further down below - so don't forget to scroll down and check them out too!

Stay safe and healthy!

SEN Tips

Right Or Left - Which Hand Is Best? All You Need To Know About Hand Dominance

Establishing hand dominance for your child is important, as it allows refinement of our fine-motor skills and movements, and therefore enables us to complete more skilled and precise activities.

Can Using Gestures And Signs Help My Child To Talk?

We all communicate in a variety of ways - using facial expression, body language, eye contact and gestures. Find out how you can use gestures and signs to help your child's language development!
