

HAVE YOU SEEN OUR MESSY PLAY SERIES YET?

10 RECIPES

Learn about the benefits
for child development

WATCH NOW

Dear Friend of CDC,

Lots has happened in the past few months at the Child Development Centre. We have captured a few highlights for you in this March edition newsletter. Also bringing to you a variety of SEN tips from our teachers and therapists in this issue.

Our Messy Play video series has been a hit. If you have not watched this series, don't miss out on the various benefits of different Messy Play activities and get your free recipes!

Team CDC

In the News

Caring Company Expo 2017

A great day connecting with businesses at the Caring Company Partnership Expo on 10th March.

Family Fun Day at Disneyland

A magical day of fun for 120 CDC parents and children made possible by Hong Kong Disneyland.

SEN Tips

5 Critical Skills for Reading Readiness

Reading is one of life's most important skills. Literature shows that parent involvement is key to children's early literacy development. How do you, as parents, help your child to learn this crucial skill?

How Do We Foster Children's Creativity?

The development of creativity in early years helps children develop problem-solving skills later on in their life. It is an important skill that is critical for children's development as backed by research.

Promoting Turn Taking With Peers

Turn-taking and sharing are essential skills for children to successfully navigate their social world. Children begin to develop these skills in toddlerhood, which help them develop friendships, communicate with others, and take part in games.

Website

Facebook

Instagram

LinkedIn

Copyright © 2016 The Child Development Centre. All rights reserved.