Dear Friend of CDC,

Welcome to the November edition of our CDC newsletter! We hope you and your family have been keeping well and healthy since our last edition. Whilst we are approaching the busy winter period with the upcoming festivities and end of the year, we hope you have a few spare moments to catch up with us!

In this newsletter, we have something special! Our Annual Report 2019-2020 is now available on the CDC website! Packed with plenty of highlights recapping our successes and achievements, interesting data and statistics, plus more, you wouldn't want to miss it!

Additionally, we're featuring some brand new 'SEN Tips' articles for you. Also, be sure to have a glance at our 'Upcoming Events' section, which is constantly updated, to see what's happening this Winter!

Also, a reminder to all CDC Parents that you can still apply for financial assistance for your child's programme(s) with us, if your family has been impacted by the COVID-19. To find out how you can apply, please contact our Programme Coordination Assistant Manager.

Stay safe and healthy!

Fun Ways to Practice Buttoning with Children

Learning to manage buttons can be a very difficult skill for children to master. Discover some ways to make learning to do buttons fun for your child!

Understanding Sensory Defensiveness

Some children may respond to certain harmless sensations as if they were irritating, dangerous or even painful. Click to find out more about the different areas of sensory defensiveness.
